M. E. APPOINTMENTS

THREE NEW METHODIST MINISTERS ASSIGNED TO GLENDALE BY CONFERENCE

Members of the Methodist churches in this city are greatly interested in conference appointments, as there are to be changes in three of the local churches. Rev. Charles H. Scott comes from Ontario to fill the place in the First Methodist Church of Glendale made vacant by the resignation of B. Dudley Snudden.

Mr. Scott is a young man and was a fellow student of Mr. Snudden and of Clyde H. Bott of this city at the University of Southern California. He is described as energetic and zealous, with a pleasant personality which has made him friends wherever he has gone, and he also has the reputation of being a popular preacher. He is a married man with children.

The request of the Tropico Methodist Church to have Rev. B. C. Cory returned to that charge has not been granted. Instead, Rev. S. H. Munger will be their pastor the coming year and Mr. Cory will officiate at Arlington Heights in the Los Angeles District.

To the West Glendale Methodist Church, Rev. W. W. Cookman has been assigned, while Rev. E. M. Crandall, who has been their pastor, goes to the First Methodist Church of Inglewood. Rev. Julius Soper still remains at the Casa Verdugo Church.

FISH FESTIVITIES

Messrs. and Mesdames Wallace Tupper and H. G. McBain spent an enjoyable and profitable day at San Pedro fishing from their boat Lotta and bringing in a fine cargo of mackerel. They returned to Glendale Sunday night and invited Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Young to join them in a fish dinner which was cooked and served by Mr. McBain at his own residence. Mr. McBain is modest about his culinary accomplishments, but other members of the party declare the dinner was delicious. Any way, there was plenty of it and all the guests went home happy.

TUESDAY CLUB OPENING

The opening meeting of the Tuesday Club will be held this afternoon at the usual hour at the Masonic Temple.

OUTLINE WORK

HIGH SCHOOL PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION HOLDS INSTRUCTIVE MEETING

There was an excellent attendance and marked interest and enthusiasm at the meeting of the High School Parent-Teacher Association held Monday afternoon in the cafeteria of the school. The president, Mrs. Wernette, conducted the meeting, and Mrs. A. A. Barton, president of the Glendale Federation of P.-T. Associations, outlined very briefly the things for which the Federation will especially strive this year, viz., the promotion of a friendly, cordial acquaintance among members, short programs which will enable members to get home in good season, and the encouragement by attendance of the Community Sings which are held weekly Thursday evenings in the High School and which, she said, the Government is promoting as a factor in its Americanization work and its endeavors to unify the sentiment of the people of the United States. She also mentioned the Liberty Fair to be held in Exposition Park October 12th to 26th at which the Glendale Federation is to be represented by an exhibit prepared by the Mutual Reading Circle, of which Mrs. Charles Toll is the leader.

On behalf of the Employment Bureau, Mr. Sawyer reported that to date twenty-seven boys had applied for work and six had been placed. He stated that the labor demand was much better than last year and prospects were good for boys who want employment. Miss Flood reported that she had been unable to fill calls for High School girls to go into homes where they would be expected to remain over night, but that she had enrollments for work by the hour.

Mrs. Ella Richardson, chairman of patriotism, urged the importance of a proper salute to the flag at P.-T. A. meetings, and of standing at attention during the singing of the national anthem. She also advised a discontinuance of the serving of refreshments as a matter of patriotic conservation.

Mrs. Mitchell, chairman of programs, recommended a suggestion box into which members could drop slips indicating the subjects they

WEAVERS GO NORTH

GLENDALE MAN TO GO TO HERCULES FOR TRAINING IN POWDER PLANT

A. L. Weaver returned Monday from San Francisco, where he was called for a conference with an expert chemist from the East and the superintendent of the Hercules Powder Company. With this company, which is a manufacturer of munitions, Mr. Weaver has accepted a position and will be in training there for three months, when the company plans to transfer him to its Delaware plant. It is one of the largest manufacturers of munitions in the country, with depots or plants at Chicago, Denver, Hazleton, Pa., Pittsburgh, Pa., Joplin, Mo., Pittsburg, Kansas, Salt Lake City, St. Louis, Wilmington, Del., Nashville, Tennessee, and New York. The California plant is located at Hercules, which is eighteen miles from the City of Oakland. Twenty-eight hundred men are employed there in the manufacture of T. N. T. and nitroglycerin. The plant, which is divided into twelve units distributed over three thousand acres for greater safety, also makes all the acids used in the manufacture of these explosives. It is said to be the largest factory for the production of T. N. T. in the United States.

Mr. Weaver will enter the employ of the company October 21st, and with Mrs. Weaver and his infant daughter Leta Frances will make his home in Oakland. While he loves California and under ordinary circumstances would prefer to remain here, the Delaware appointment will be an executive position and quite desirable on many accounts. Mr. Weaver is exceedingly fond of chemistry and is an expert in that science. He is therefore very much delighted with the prospects opened up by this appointment. A pleasant feature of his transfer to Hercules is the fact that his brother, Chester Weaver, who is stationed at Goat Island, will be able to visit him and Mrs. Weaver when he has shore leave.

The Weavers have many friends here by whom they will be greatly missed. Mr. Weaver has been prominent in the Elks' Lodge, in which he has filled high offices, and is also a valued member of the Masonic Lodge. Mrs. Weaver was secretary of the District Federation of Women's Clubs the first year of Mrs. Jones' administration as president, and proved most efficient. She is a woman of charming personality, and the Tuesday Club loses her with great regret.

HOOVER'S INSTRUCTIONS

A meeting which ranks as one of the most important ever held in this city is scheduled to take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the High School, when Food Commissioner Tincher of Long Beach will present a message direct from Hoover to the citizens of Glendale in regard to the kind of food conservation which it will be necessary for America to practice in order to meet the needs of our men at the front and of the allies who are dependent upon this country for sustenance, in other words, the conservation which is necessary to win the war.

Our people are frequently misled by newspaper statements that conservation along this line or that line is no longer necessary. It has been said that these statements are often German propaganda circulated for the purpose of reducing America's export of food. That there may be no misunderstanding at this critical time, Mr. Hoover is sending his instructions to the people of the United States by special messengers who receive them from him direct and upon whom he can depend to transmit them accurately to the people of their districts. Mr. Tincher is one of these special messengers and what he has to say of the food situation can be depended upon. Every citizen of Glendale should be there, and pay strict attention to the instructions given, for the three great factors in the winning of the war are men, ammunition and food. The last named is declared by military authorities to be by no means the least important of the three, and the bigger the army, the more need of conservation.

FIRST LIEUT. ALFRED KNIGHT

Mrs. A. P. Knight of this city has just received a letter from her soldier son, Alfred Knight, stationed at Camp Stewart, Va., that he has been advanced from Second to First Lieutenant and expects very soon to be on his way overseas. He is with the Fiftieth Artillery, C. A. C., and will be very glad to go. He writes he is well, that there hasn't been a single case of Spanish influenza in his regiment, and his mother is not to worry.

PRESIDENT MAKES QUERIES OF TEUTONS

ASKS FOR INTERPRETATION OF NOTE AND DECLARES WITHDRAWAL OF ARMIES MUST PRECEDE ARMISTICE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, October 8.—Secretary Lansing this afternoon gave out the reply that the United States has made to German peace offers.

The reply is officially designated as an inquiry and not as an answer. President Wilson makes three queries of Germany.

In the first place he asks if the Imperial German government means that it has accepted the 14 points laid down by him not as a subject for discussion at a peace conference but as a basic principle and if Germany would be willing to confine a peace conference to a discussion merely as to the practical application of the 14 points.

The second query asks Chancellor Prince Max if he is speaking for the constituted authorities of the German Empire.

In the third place the President makes it clear that before an armistice is granted Germany must withdraw her armies from allied soil and says the good faith of Germany will be judged by the speed with which these armies are withdrawn.

The note concludes with the declaration that the answers to these questions will be considered very vital from every point of view in making a reply to the German proposals.

AMERICANS STRIKE FOR VALENCIENNES

ATTACK LE CAPEAU TO OPEN WAY TO A FLANKING MOVEMENT AGAINST CHIEF BASTION OF NEW DEFENSE LINE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, October 8.—American and British troops attacking this morning between St. Quentin and Cambrai are striking toward the great German supply base of Le Capeau, eleven miles beyond the Beurevoir line.

This morning's attack probably is for the purpose of once more breaking the Beurevoir line which the Germans recently established after the British had smashed it. The success of an operation against Le Capeau would open the way to a flanking movement against Valenciennes seventeen miles to the north, and the chief bastion of the next German defense system. Meanwhile the Americans continue the pressure against the Argonne positions and the French on the Suippe river advanced to within a mile of Neuschatelle.

Advances of the allies in Serbia are now endangering the entire Austro-German army in Albania, the allies having pushed far to the northward of the main Austrian army, which is attempting to retreat in a general northerly direction.

GERMAN RETREAT DELAYED

CANNOT FALL BACK FROM PRESENT FRONT BECAUSE DEFENSES ON VALENCIENNES LINE ARE NOT READY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, October 8.—American and British forces attacked at dawn today between St. Quentin and Cambrai on a front of 25 miles. Satisfactory progress was made, according to Field Marshal Haig's reports.

Battle-front dispatches show that the German retreat to the Valenciennes line has been delayed because the new defenses have not been finished and the German armies must fight on the present line until their new line is completed.

Swiss dispatches today said that German Field Marshal Von Mackensen had arrived in Serbia to direct the efforts being made to save the Austro-German armies in the Balkans.

The Austrians are reported to be evacuating Belgrade, while the Serbian population, including women, is helping to drive them out.

On the Western Front north of Rheims, French troops advanced a mile last night, reaching Combe. They captured Bazancourt and threatened Isles-sur-Suippe.

Rome dispatches reported that the Serbian army had arrived before Nish.

ITALIAN STEAMER TORPEDOED

ALBERTO TRAVES IS SUNK BY A SUBMARINE THREE HUNDRED MILES OFF AMERICAN COAST, 21 MEN MISSING

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, October 8.—The navy department announced today that the Italian steamer Alberto Traves, of 3800 tons, had been torpedoed by a submarine 300 miles off the American coast. Thirteen members of the crew were saved. Two boats containing 21 men are missing.

LIBERTY LOAN INCREASES $43,000,000 OVER NIGHT

WASHINGTON, October 8.—The total Liberty Loan subscriptions for the United States increased forty-three millions over night. The today's reported total was one billion, four hundred and sixty millions, five hundred and five thousand dollars.

SUICIDE OF ACTING COMMANDANT AT CAMP GRANT

ROCKFORD, Ill., October 8.—Charles Hagaborne, Acting Commandant of Camp Grant, Illinois, shot and killed himself last night. It is believed that worry over the Spanish influenza epidemic at the camp was the underlying cause of his suicide.

G. U. H. S. ACTIVITIES

HIGH SCHOOL THOROUGHLY ORGANIZED FOR WAR WORK

Statistics on file at Glendale Union High School show that the enrollment now is 663, as compared with 586 last year at this time. Ours is one of the exceptional high schools which has increased its attendance under war conditions. In some localities there has been a marked falling off. It shows that Glendale boys and girls are heeding the injunctions of the government to remain in school until Uncle Sam calls them out. Instructors say that one of the benefits of war has been the revelation of the importance and value of education.

In order to secure working organizations to promote the various war activities, war work societies to the number of twenty-nine have been formed in the High School, one to each room. Each has its corps of officers and its purpose will be to push systematically the selling of liberty bonds, thrift stamps, and aid in the various war drives as they come up from time to time. This organization gives a medium to which the school authorities can go whenever they wish to reach individual students and interest them in special war activities.

In this connection it is interesting to know that the students are now taking hold of work on the Fourth Liberty Loan in earnest. Professor Howe's lists showed that seventeen subscriptions aggregating $1200 had been obtained in the few days in which they have been at work, and he looks for highly creditable returns from their efforts before the drive ends.

He also states that War Savings Certificates purchased by High School students up to June 13th last, totalled $2678, and there is every reason to expect that sales this year will be much larger.

Prospects for a fine record in athletics are good. Saturday the football team of the High School visited Monrovia and laid out cold the Monrovia High team, the score being 38 to 0. The team is trying to figure out just how it happened that they kept the ball all the time. Mr. Hayhurst says he can not determine whether his team is exceptionally good or the Monrovia players exceptionally poor. The next game which will be played with the team of Alhambra High, will come off October 19th on the Glendale field.

A debating team is being organized. There are more applicants this year for drill in this line than ever before and lively competition is in prospect. The team will include the veterans who have been tried out, Philip Wernette, Frank Balthis and Clarence Ralston, and the new recruits will have to go some to hold their own against these skillful antagonists. A somewhat different plan of coaching will be followed this year. Professor Root will be the critic of their subject matter, and on two days a week they will receive training from Miss Terry in expression and delivery. The combination, it is believed, will be a great advantage.

SET CLOCK BACK AN HOUR OCTOBER 27

Father Time is to go back to his old schedule on the last Sunday of this month, October 27. At 2 a. m. on that day you may turn your clock backward an hour. In case you are not in the habit of getting up at that hour or arriving home at that time in the morning, one may set the clock back before the usual hour of turning in on Saturday night and rest easy with a clear conscience until Sunday morning. The legal hour for the change, however, is at 2 a. m.

There have been many inquiries at this office in the last few days, several callers being under the impression that the date of returning to the former time schedules was October 1.

Now or present time went into effect by act of congress on March 31, this year, when all clocks were turned back one hour, as a method of saving daylight, or securing more dayilght working time. Government officials say the plan has proved highly successful in increasing production, and by the act of congress the change of time will be made twice annually henceforth.

VISITORS WANTED

Everybody is invited to attend the drill of registrants on the High School ground tonight. It was organized with thirteen units and there must be twenty now as fifty or more men have enrolled since the first meeting. The mothes, wives and sweethearts will be made very welcome and there is a large grand stand where they can sit in comfort and be out of the way.

BURGLARS SEEK BONDS

GLENDALE HOMES ENTERED BY THIEVES WHO TAKE WAR STAMPS AND BONDS

The light-fingered fraternity may be lacking in patriotism, but they are not lacking in the appreciation of the value of government securities, as was evidenced by raids made in Glendale Monday evening, when several homes on Orange and Central avenues were entered and ransacked. At the residence of John Robert White, an entrance was effected from the rear and cupboards and drawers were emptied in a search for money or securities. But little money was secured there, but two Liberty Bonds in the pocket of a coat belonging to Mr. White were taken.

At the home of H. B. Howeth, which is a two-story residence, the lower floor was searched at some time during the night. Mrs. Howeth had just returned from a visit in Pomona and had brought fruit which she canned during the afternoon. In her handbag, which she neglected to take up stairs with her on retiring for the night, was all her jewelry, including her much-prized engagement ring and quite a sum of money. On getting up this morning at six o'clock, Mr. Howeth discovered the desk open and its contents scattered, and on further investigation found Mrs. Howeth's handbag empty on the porch.

Mr. and Mrs. McLouth of 324 North Central were also victims, losing a book and a half of thrift stamps. It is supposed that an attempt was made upon the Gregg home at 240 North Central, as they heard a noise about three o'clock, got up and turned on the lights, which probably frightened away the robbers.

The only clue to the possible thieves is reported by Officer Garwood who hailed a suspicious character on Sycamore avenue last night about one-thirty o'clock, ordering him to halt. Instead of obeying, the man ran. The officer fired two shots but the man got away.

A GOOD RECORD

Reports Monday night indicated subscriptions amounting to $175,000 for the Fourth Liberty Loan in Glendale. At the rate they are coming in, the city will soon be over the top, but that will not halt the drive, as the captains are anxious our city should make as good a record as in previous Liberty Loan drives.

SALVAGE WANTED

A very important order has been received from the National Headquarters of the Red Cross to start the collection of fruit pits and nut shells with renewed zeal. There follows a list of the materials to be saved for the Salvage Department. Cut it out and refer to it when in doubt.

Peach stones or seeds.
Apricot pits.
Prune pits.
Plum pits.
Olive pits.
Date seeds.
Cherry pits (except from cherries imported from Italy).
Brazil nutshells.
Walnut shells (English or native).
Hickory nut shells.
Butternut shells.

It is not necessary to separate the various materials listed above. They may be mixed together indiscriminately. Any of these materials if sound, no matter how old, will be accepted. Care must be taken however to exclude all materials not listed. The field has been studied carefully by Government chemists and no materials outside the above list are desired.

Almond shells or peanut shells are not wanted. Cocoanut shells are wanted, but they must be kept separate from the other materials.

Please thoroughly dry all pits and nuts before turning them over to the Red Cross.

Remember that 200 peach stones will produce carbon sufficient to protect one soldier from German gas and that 7 pounds of nut shells will do the same. No quantity is too small, as the Government wants every available pound of material.

RUSSIAN ASYLUM HOUSES NOTABLES

By Joseph Shaplen
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, October 8.—It is a well-known fact that war increases the amount of insanity. What effect does revolution have in this matter? While in Petrograd, I once visited the Nickolai Hospital for Psychiatrics to investigate the subject. To my surprise, I discovered that none of the hospitals had cases of typical revolutionary illnesses. The few patients that had been brought to the Nickolai Hospital for example, I was told, suffered principally with the mania of persecution. It is also interesting that the proportion of such patients was divided equally between the lower and the upper classes, although it would seem at first thought that the latter should have supplied by far the larger part.

At the Nickolai Hospital, for example, there were a number of Red Guardsmen. They were all suffering with the mania of impending execution and kept on repeating that they would be shot at sunrise.

Among the patients was A. Protopopoff, former minister of the interior, whose policy, more than that of any one else, was responsible for precipitating the revolution. He had just been transferred from the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul. He seemed to have retained all the characteristics of the gentleman and bureaucrat. He tried to be enchanting even in an insane asylum. And he seemed to be succeeding.

He was liked alike by the administration, patients and attendants. He is at all times attentive to the soldiers, shows many kindnesses to the patients and his sincerity seems to be questioned by no one. He probably will be released soon. He is neither dangerous to his enemies nor of any use to his friends. His illness is not dangerous. It consists of temporary fits of insanity, which grew rather frequent at St. Peter and Paul and he was, therefore, transferred to the hospital. But his illness is incurable, for it is due to his old and well-known trouble, which he, himself, never sought to conceal.

On the occasion of a certain inspection of the employees of his department, the former minister of the Czar suddenly grabbed one of the obscure secretaries and led him away to his private office, where he spoke with him for more than two hours. He told him of how well he, Protopopoff, was liked by the Czar and the Czarina. Then he grew sad and mournful, saying:

"And do you know? I have a terrible disease!"

The story is also told that after receiving a report on an important enterprise of the government, Protopopoff pigeonholed it for weeks. Then he unearthed it, read it and wrote in blue pencil on the margin:

There are no separate soldiers' and officers' wards at the Nickolai Hospital for the Insane. They were abolished by the revolution. The soldier attendants announced one day that they would not wait upon the officers and it was necessary to transfer the latter to the soldiers' wards. Despite the fear of trouble, however, the insane soldiers and officers get along well. All differences in rank were forgotten. The revolution could bring no help or salvation to these unfortunates. So they remained living in peace with each other. Outside the soldiers were killing the officers by the hundred, in the cities and at the front. It remained for the crazy soldiers and officers to understand in its full grandeur and tragedy the meaning of a word most loved and despised in Russia. That word is "tovarisch." It means "comrade."

UNITED STATES SCHOOL GARDEN ARMY

1. One million five hundred thousand boys and girls have responded to the call of the President and enlisted in the United States School Garden Army.

2. Twenty thousand acres of unproductive home and vacant lots have been converted into productive land. This will release an equal acreage now used in truck gardening for the production of other foodstuffs more important for war purposes. It will also relieve transportation congestion through home consumption of home-produced foodstuffs.

3. Fifty thousand teachers have received valuable instruction in gardening through the garden leaflets written by experts in this office and distributed from here.

4. Boards of Education and other civic organizations have been influenced to give financial and moral support to the school and home garden movement and to pay extra salaries for supervision and teaching.

5. Hundreds of thousands of parents have become interested in the garden movement and are working with their children in home gardens. In Salt Lake City alone, 5200 mothers representing sixty-two parental associations, are actively supporting food production in the schools.

6. Thousands of civic, commercial and patriotic organizations have become interested in the movement and are giving it hearty support.

7. One and one half million children have been given something to do this summer: something that will help carry the burden of their country in this struggle for freedom, something that will help them to build character and something that will appeal to and develop their patriotism.

8. Home and vacant lot gardening in cities, towns and villages has been dignified and made popular to a degree that practically insures them a prominent place in the school system of our country. It would be difficult to estimate the educational and material value of such results.

NEW WOLF GUARDS CAPITOLINE HILL

By Henry Wood
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

ROME, Aug. 20. (By Mail.)—Rome has a new wolf.

This may not be very important news for the rest of the world, but it is of supreme importance for Rome.

Ever since a benignly disposed she-wolf nursed Remus and Romulus, thereby making possible the founding of Rome, the birth of Italy, making it possible for Dante to write the Inferno, Verdi to compose Il Trovatore, Marconi to discover the wireless and Caruso to sing at the Metropolitan, Rome has always had a wolf in a cage on the precise spot on the Capitoline hill where the original wolf gave the present kingdom of Italy its start.

It is of course necessary to point out that with the proverbial sense for the eternal fitness of things which the Italians have, this is always a she-wolf. It would be regarded as little less than sacrilege to maintain on the Capitoline hill a gentleman-wolf in recognition of the great services rendered Rome by a lady-wolf.

Ever since the original declaration of war back in 1914, Rome weather has been completely off. Atmospheric changes said to be caused by the heavy cannonading along the various battle fronts have caused it to be cold in Rome when it should be hot and hot when it should be cold or often both at the same time.

The she-wolf of the Capitoline hill accordingly developed a case of pneumonia during one of these sudden changes of temperature, and died a premature death.

But now the city of Taranto in the southern part of Italy has presented Rome with a new she-wolf.

The latter had been duly installed in the cage on the Capitoline hill, and has put in most of her time since then trying to eat the iron bars that cage her in. When she isn't doing that she is showing her teeth to onlookers in a manner that leaves no doubt that if she could get out she would not try to nurse the Roman population through the present food shortage, but would take a bite out of its legs instead.

Hopes are entertained by guardians of the Capitoline hill that by the time the war ends and American tourists again come to Rome, the wolf will have taken on some of the dignity which her historic position seems to call for.

ITALIAN PATRIOT AVENGED

By Henry Wood
United Press Staff Correspondent

WITH THE ITALIAN ARMIES AFIELD, September 8 (By Mail)—After 69 years, almost to the very day, fate has seen to it that Italian vengeance which is long-suffering but never forgetting, has been satisfied and the martyrdom by Austrian gendarmes of Ciceruacchio, an ardent Roman patriot, is now avenged on the books of Justice.

In August, 1849, following the tragic retreat of Garibaldi over part of the same territory where the Italians are again fighting Austria for complete national and racial freedom Ciceruacchio was taken prisoner. Through the initiative of an Austrian gendarme official he was given a summary court martial and quickly executed. A little later orders to suspend the sentence came from the higher authorities.

A little tablet at Porto Tolle on the lower Po marks the spot where Ciceruacchio paid the penalty to Austrian hatred for his efforts on behalf of Italian freedom.

His death like that of thousands of others of Italian patriots who have suffered a similar martyrdom at Austrian hands went unavenged until August of this year. On the morning of August 26 during a raid by Austrian aeroplanes on towns back of the Italian front, an Austrian aeroplane was brought down above Porto Tolle and fell directly in front of the tablet commemorating the martyrdom of Ciceruacchio. The two occupants, an Austrian aviation lieutenant and a sergeant escaping from the machine, turned to the tablet expecting to get an idea of their whereabouts, read it and then turned to find themselves in the hands of Italian gendarmes.

would like to have brought up at meetings, and the speakers they would like to hear, and the proposition was adopted to be carried out at the next meeting.

Professor Harry Howe made one of his fine, snappy, four-minute Liberty Loan talks, and the balance of the time was given to Dr. Jessie Russell, the speaker of the afternoon.

In reviewing the work of the State Federation, Dr. Russell stated that at the last annual convention the Department of Scholarship was added for the purpose of removing the scholarship promotion work of the organization from the Philanthropy Department under which it seemed to be considered in the light of a charity, whereas, in the opinion of officials it should be put on an independent, self-respecting basis inasmuch as the attendance of children upon school to the age of sixteen is compulsory in this state. In that connection she told of letters received from patriotic women, the mothers of families of children, whose husbands were earning only $2 to $2.50 per day and who had a hard struggle to make ends meet with the increased cost of food and clothes. In addition many had undertaken to purchase Liberty Bonds, and in the schools the children were continually urged to buy thrift stamps, all of which had brought burdens and embarrassments upon the mothers, who were patriotic and anxious to meet all their obligations as citizens. As a result, representatives of the Federation had taken the matter up with federal authorities and an adjustment had been secured which would enable them to meet these demands, children being permitted to work out memberships in the Junior Red Cross.

She called attention to the disposition of supervisors to cut down appropriations for school purposes and warned voters to make a careful study of Amendments 17 and 18, which will be voted upon at the next election.

Among the measures for which the Federation is working mentioned by the doctor is the extension of state aid to pupils to sixteen years. Under the present law, the state aid stops at fifteen, though the pupils is required to remain in school until sixteen, which is regarded as an inconsistency. It is also asking for an increase in the elementary school aid of from $15 to $17 per capita.

The Federation is indorsing but not pushing the demand for a State Agricultural School in Southern California similar to the Farm School at Davis, the argument being that agricultural conditions are so different here that different instruction is needed.

She also disparaged the proposed budget system for State funds on the ground that it might encourage the distribution of the money among a few favored institutions.

She referred to the community property laws which the Federation is backing and explained their intent.

She also called attention to the growth of the State Federation, which now numbers 26,000 members and which has been given quarters free of cost in the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. A strong effort was made, she said, to have all the literature sent out by the association bear that address alone, but she refused to accede to that proposition. As a result, she said, 450,000 pieces of mail bearing the Glendale address of the president had been sent out, thus indirectly advertising this city as a town of importance and putting it upon the map as far as the recipients of the literature were concerned. She also dwelt upon the high rank which the Glendale organization has taken among the P.-T. A. Federations of the State.

HUNS WILL CELEBRATE WHEN THEY READ THIS

(By United Press)

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Sept. 20. (By Mail.)—Little Marie Yvonne, the rest of whose name no one seems to know, will live and will not be entirely crippled all her life. An American ambulance unit is happier, since the doctors gave out the report.

Marie Yvonne lived in a little town north of Chateau-Thierry during the six weeks the boches held the place. The 5-year-old tot was forced to remain behind with her aged grandfather and grandmother. The mother is dead, and the old folks were too feeble to flee.

They lived in a cave practically every minute of that six weeks, going out only when necessary, for the town was near the line. The Germans told them to stay in the cave, for they would see too much otherwise. The old folks and the child were able to live only by using hoarded food sparingly, and by denying they had anything to eat when the Germans came to take it. The grandfather would totter out, despite shells, and bring back vegetables from gardens.

Finally the Americans retook the town, and little Marie Yvonne was happy to go out into the sunshine again. The doughboys gave her and the grandparents white bread and canned meat, and they all ate as though famished.

Then Marie Yvonne, playing in her own house, found a German potato masher grenade. She picked it up to show it to grandfather, and a wire fastened to it pulled the pin that kept the trap from exploding. Marie Yvonne was blown across the room, wounded in several places, but most seriously in the hand which picked up the grenade.

The Americans hurriedly gave Marie Yvonne first aid treatment and rushed her to a Chateau-Thierry hospital, where doctors operated. She is getting better now, and the Americans who have watched her are glad. Their opinion of Germans is unchanged.

Think what the spectacle of cheerful giving means to the enemy.

IS IT PATRIOTIC TO EAT CANDY?

THE TRUTH ABOUT CANDY

Within Moderation--Yes!

A certain share is yours—so established because the U. S. Food Administration is agreeable to its manufacture and sale.

It knows that candy is a healthful, wholesome food and that the candy industry is an important factor in our national life, employing 200,000 people (mostly women) and having a capital investment of $110,000,000.

The administration realizes that business conditions must be disturbed as little as possible in order to "keep the home fires burning" and prevent widespread misfortune and unemployment.

Of course, candy contains some sugar—and every one is asked to save sugar.

But the candy manufacturers were asked to save before you were—their allowance now being but 50% of normal. The sugar used in candy is not wasted, but is presented to you in pleasing combinations with chocolate, milk, corn syrup, honey, nuts, fruits, raisins, etc.—all being highly nutritive and fuel for the human system.

Every person gets a certain allowance of sugar a month in addition to what they use for preserving and canning. You also are entitled to a certain amount in the form of candy, which your system will find to be good food—provided you eat it in moderation.

Personals

Mrs. E. S. McKee of 318 West Colorad street has been ill but is said to be making a satisfactory recovery.

Miss Drusilla Simons of Oak Knoll, Pasadena was a week-end guest of Miss Grace Crampton of 213 East Chestnut street.

Frank Coffin, Publicity Secretary of the Pacific Union Conference, is in Oakland, California, attending a Union Conference meeting.

I. M. Farnham, an artist of note in San Diego, is the guest this week of his son, H. N. Farnham of South Mariposa street, this city.

Mrs. McLaughlin of Hinckley, California, who has been the guest of Mrs. F. A. Alspach of 315 Mariposa street, has gone back to San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Porter will have with them this fall their friend Miss Minnie Stroschein of Santa Ana, who is employed in a Los Angeles bank and will go and come daily to and from Los Angeles.

Harold Wendell Phillips of this city, who is in the government service at Vancouver, Washington, and who left here a week ago last Thursday, is still in quarantine, but hopes soon to be released and take up his regular work in the spruce division.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Campbell of North Glendale are having the great pleasure of entertaining an old friend, Mrs. J. O. Marshall of Sacramento, who has been with them since Thursday and who will return to her home the latter part of the present week.

Mrs. Harry Duffield of Lomita avenue, whose husband underwent an operation in a Los Angeles hospital Monday morning, was advised this morning by telephone that he had passed an excellent night and was doing well. Mrs. Duffield is with him as much as she is permitted to be during the day.

Clyde Bott is taking a vacation from the Glendale Book Store and is at his ranch near Pomona helping to harvest a fine crop of walnuts. As prices are very good and there is a demand for hulls as well as for nuts, he is likely to be well rewarded for the care given his orchard the past year. He is expected home Friday evening.

A party composed of Mr. and Mrs. J. Herbert Smith, Miss Charlotte Castle, Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Hunchberger, and Misses Evangeline and Virginia Hunchberger, spent Sunday at Elsinore at the beautiful ranch of Mr. Shirtleff, which borders the lake, where their lunch was spread in a pretty pergola. It is in a very lovely situation and they enjoyed their stay there immensely. The party also stopped at Aviation Camp Allesandro, near Riverside, and watched the evolutions of about twenty airplanes. Another incident in their trip was the inspection of a tomato canning plant at Elsinore owned and operated by Mr. Shirtleff, who is a wholesale grocer in Los Angeles.

FIRE-FIGHTING APPARATUS

A force pump which is operated from the engine of the fire auto truck has been installed on the old auto fire truck, and for several days Fire Chief Lankford has been testing out the new apparatus. The new auto fire truck which was ordered last spring has not been received yet, the delay being on account of war conditions.

KEEP VALUABLES IN SECURE PLACES

Monday evening's house searching by burglars may serve as an advance warning to the people of Glendale to keep their valuables such as money, bonds, thrift stamps and costly jewelry in places of security.

The man who will steal is a bad citizen, he is the equal of the Hun and one way to put him out of business is to keep all valuables in secure places.

WHAT LIBRARY WAR SERVICE IS DOING

The American Library Association has been designated by the Government as the agency for suppyling reading matter for soldiers, sailors and marines, overseas and on this side.

The Library War Service of the American Library Association seeks to place in the hands of every member of our fighting forces the book he needs when he wants it, whether he wishes to read for recreation or to fit himself to be a better fighter or a better American, to help him win success after the war.

Library War Service supplies books and magazines, through military and naval officers, the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., K. of C., Y. W. C. A., Jewish Welfare Board, War Camp Community Service and Salvation Army, for the use of the men of the army, navy and marines.

It places libraries on warships, transports and government cargo ships. Two hundred and fifty vessels have libraries; there is a deck library on every transport.

It buys Educational and Technical Books to meet the demand of the men for "Books that Help."

It maintains Library Service in military and naval hospitals.

41 Library buildings in operation.
43 large camp libraries established.
143 hospitals and Red Cross houses supplied.
243 libraries maintained in the service.
315 small military camps and posts equipped with books.
350 points overseas supplied books.
406 naval and marine stations supplied with libraries.
1,547 branches and stations located in recreation huts, barracks and mess halls.
600,000 books purchased, largely technical.
1,030,458 books shipped overseas.
3,011,510 gift-books placed in service.
5,000,000 gift-magazines distributed.

HEALTH INSURANCE GETS ANOTHER BLOW

SAN FRANCISCO—The Commonwealth club of San Francisco, after a three hours debate at its September meeting in the St. Francis hotel, turned down the proposed health insurance amendment to the State Constitution by a vote of 88 to 29.

Chester Rowell, chairman of the Social Insurance commission, in speaking of the amendment said that it was necessary "that the insurance be made compulsory," that it would cost about "four per cent of the payroll" or wages received in the state, and that the wage earners share of cost "could readily be collected by extracting it from their pay envelopes."

W. V. Stafford president of the order of Railway Employes, said that the passage of the amendment would compel the workman to buy and pay for sickness insurance whether he wants it or not, and make his home subject to invasion by inquisitive political inspectors.

"The Social Insurance Commission, he added, "confesses that the measure would cost not less than fifty million dollars a year in perpetuity,—this in the face of the fact that the cost of government has doubled in the state within a few years and all are pledged to retrenchment.

"Farmers," he declared, "would not participate in the alleged benefits but would be required to pay their share." of the fifty millions. The insurance would "cripple or destroy fraternal, mutual and trade unions benefit" organizations which provide sick benefits for their members.

"This is no time," he said in conclusion, "to embark on a strange experiment, to enlarge the expense of government, to load industry with further burdens, to deprive the worker of liberty, or to add to the burden of the people."

SACRAMENTO.—The publication of an index to the thousands of laws included in the California codes, as provided in the senate concurrent resolution No. 20, would be illegal, according to Attorney General Webb. The attorney general ruled that the index was not a necessity for the proper conduct of the affairs of the state.

STATE NEWS

BERKELEY.—It was once possible to secure board in these United States for $1.25 a week. Isn't possible? Oh, yes. John Russell Little, 2223 Durant avenue, Berkeley, has found in papers left him by his uncle, Russell Little, a bill which includes the following items: For two weeks' and three days' board at $1.25 a week, $3.04; for oil (covering same period) 10 cents; for wood, 20 cents.

SACRAMENTO.—California is preparing for her part in the rehabilitation of Europe. When the German hordes have been driven back to their own territory, France and Belgium will have to start anew to till their war-torn fields. The demands of the soldiers have depleted all surplus, even to the seed stocks. Dairy herds have been killed for meat, and draft animals have been lost in battle just as have men. When the call comes, the Golden State will be ready to do more than its share. Immense stores of seeds are being gathered under the direction of the staet university. California grains and California gardens will some day be growing in the war zone of today. California farmers will be asked to send breeding stock "over there." The state board of control, headed by Chairman Marshall DeMotte, has already held several conferences on the matter.

SACRAMENTO.—An original local board somewhere in the East figured out a labor-saving scheme in the draft that is all right except that it won't work, according to a telegram from General Crowder to General Borree, warning California boards against the system. This resourceful board divided the registration cards according to ages, and numbered the different sets, beginning each lot with 1. This will work all right until it is time to allot the order numbers. In the meantime that eastern board has been ordered to number the cards consecutively, irrespectively of the ages of the registrants.

SACRAMENTO.—To utilize big limestone and clay deposits in Tulare county, the San Joaquin Portland Cement company has secured permission from the state corporation department to sell $750,000 in bonds and to issue 6000 shares of common stock, to raise money to buy the land where materials are located.

LOS ANGELES—A drive against over-confidence as a result of allied victories in Europe was opened here today by Federal Food Commissioner Ralph P. Merritt. He fears the people will become lax in food saving. A corps of speakers will address meetings in 49 southern California communities beginning with gatherings at Redondo Beach, Venice, Monrovia, Escondido and Los Angeles today. The drive in this part of the state will end October 12. "There must be no let-up in conservation now," Merritt declared. "While the military situation is very encouraging, there was never more need of food saving. We have a continually increasing army in France to feed and we have to supply 50 per cent more food to the armies and civilian population than we did a year ago."

LOS ANGELES.—Close war-time regulations of Mexican border trade has resulted in marked reduction of both imports and exports in the past year, according to a report of John B. Elliott, collector of customs for September. Value of exports for September, 1918, is estimated at $542,903, as against $701,370 for September, 1917. Imports in the same period have decreased from $329,357 to $226,223 and collections from $23,738.90 to $15,151.70.

SACRAMENTO.—Californians are paying unprecedented prices for butter to give our soldiers in Europe more milk. Butter is high because milk is scarce. Milk is scarce because more and more of the California dairy product is being condensed and sent overseas. A number of milk canneries have been put in operation in this state in the last year.

SACRAMENTO.— Expedition of business will be the watchword of his department, declared Gen. E. C. Bellows, newly appointed commissioner of corporations, upon assuming office.

SAN FRANCISCO.—The latest department to come under the jurisdiction of the State Council of Defense is the United States School Garden Army. Cyril A. Stebbins, regional director of the army for the Western States, who is also connected with the bureau of Education, Washington, has established his headquarters in the Council's offices in the Ferry Building in this city. President Wilson is the commander in chief of the army and he has urged that every encouragement and active support should be given this valuable auxiliary. He says the children will "all like to feel that they are in fact fighting in France by joining the Home Garden Army." The plan is to organize school boys and girls into companies of 150 or less under the direction of a garden teacher, a captain, first lieutenant and second lieutenant. Different bars for their respective ranks will be given officers of the army and every enlisted soldier will be presented with an insignia. Thousands of acres of unproductive land are expected to be utilized in winning the war. In other parts of the country—as also here—many have already responded to the call for volunteers. One million and a half boys and girls are enlisted.

LOS ANGELES.—Scores of women looking for husbands are writing to Cupid R. S. Sparks, county marriage license clerk, following Sparks' success in unearthing prospective suitors for Mrs. A. Nobody. One correspondent informed Cupid that she is a good shot with any kind of gun or rifle as well as a neat housekeeper and good cook. Another wants a good husband about 50 years old, and says she has a few cows to offer as a dowry. Still another offers to pay Cupid for the bother of locating a huband and insists that she wants a man many years older than herself. "Elderly people long for a companion," she explained. "I want to be both a good companion and a loving wife to him."

BUT WILL KAISER BE IN SHAPE TO SAY IT?

(By United Press)

LONDON, Sept. 8. (By Mail.)—Out of hundreds of songs written expressly for the "Waacs," this is the one they've adopted.

We are the Women's Army,
The W. A. A. C.;
We can not shoot, we can not fight—
Of what earthly use are we?
But when we march to Potsdam,
The Kaiser he will say,
"Hoch, Hoch! Mein Gott, what a jolly fine lot
Are the W. A. A. C."

Pouring Forth Our Earthly Treasures For Treasures That Are Godly

WEALTH and treasure are material estate. They are the heritage of diligence and good fortune.

But life, liberty and happiness are above all these. They are the possessions of Heaven which God alone bestows, and only He may rightfully take away.

So it is fitting and natural, when a sanguinary power, conceived in cunning and nurtured upon blind submissiveness, challenges the very right of God, that the world should turn in wrath against such blasphemy.

Wealth and treasure are this land's possessions. We are proud to think that this is largely so because the divine principles upon which life, liberty and happiness are predicated have been in diligence and good fortune our earnest precepts.

But as this great estate was in the making, we had no dreams of a day when we might pour forth this wealth and treasure for treasures far more Godly.

It is today our privilege to do this, without reserve, unstintingly. And it is our privilege to see this wealth and treasure go forth hallowed by its own great purpose—for it expends itself not for selfish gain nor mean advantage, but that men throughout the world may hereinafter dwell in peace, secure in the knowledge that the life, liberty and happiness given them by God, may not, at the whim of some perverted human agency, be ruthlessly snatched away.

And so as you inscribe your name upon a subscription blank for Liberty Bonds today, your hand pours forth the treasure of the land, which returning will bring back with it fourfold the treasures of Heaven, life, liberty and happiness, and the gratitude of men saved from servitude and degradation.
